3: What are the purposes for which we process personal data?

There are more than one purpose. Below is a list of them, along with a more detailed explanation. We have also assigned appropriate legal bases for processing to individual purposes:

Purpose of processing	Purpose of processing explanation	Legal basis
Fulfillment of orders and contract management.	When placing an order, you must provide the necessary data for its implementation as specified in the order form. Providing data is a condition for placing an order. In addition, the system used to process the order also records your IP address from which you placed the order. Each order is saved in the database, which means that your personal data assigned to the order also includes information about the order, such as the date and time of placing the order, the order identification number, transaction identifier, order item, price, payment method and deadline, as well as the date and time of download (in the case of digital content). In connection with the conclusion of the contract, we may also process your other personal data to perform the services provided for in the contract that has been concluded. The scope of this data depends on which personal data is necessary to perform the contract. In a situation where we receive your data in the course of performing the contract, e.g. from the entity that employs you, we base such data processing on a legitimate interest, which in this case is to ensure efficient and effective service for the concluded contract. In such a case, we may process your identifying and contact information.	art. 6 ust. 1 lit. b RODO, art. 6 ust. 1 lit. f RODO

	Data is processed for the purpose of concluding and performing the contract. After the contract is performed, the data is stored in the archive for the purpose of potential establishment, investigation or defense of claims related to the contract. The data also goes to the accounting documentation for the purpose of fulfilling tax obligations.
Actions taken to complete orders by customers.	Due to the fact that some customers start placing an order, but do not finalize it (do not confirm the order and do not enter into an agreement with us), we can take actions that will encourage our customers to complete the purchase process. To this end, we may, for example, send e-mails containing information about the unfinished order and an encouragement to finalize the transaction. For the purposes of these actions, we may process personal data, such as information provided during the order placement process, in particular your name and email address, as well as information about the contents of the cart, the date of the transaction start, and other data left in connection with the initiated purchase process. The legal basis for processing your personal data is Article 6(1)(b) of the GDPR, as these actions are aimed at concluding a contract. In addition, we find the basis for processing in our legitimate interest, which in this case is increasing sales.	art. 6 ust. 1 lit. b RODO, art. 6 ust. 1 lit. f RODO
Handling complaints or withdrawal from the contract.	If you submit a complaint or withdraw from a contract, you provide personal data included in the content of the complaint or statement of withdrawal from the contract. Providing data is a condition for submitting a statement of withdrawal from the contract or complaint. The data is processed in order to handle the process of withdrawal from the contract or complaint process. After completing such a process, the data is transferred to the archive for the purpose of possible determination, investigation or defense of claims related to the handling of the process of withdrawal from the contract or complaint process. The data also goes to the accounting documentation for the purpose of fulfilling tax obligations.	Art. 6 ust. 1 lit. c RODO w zw. z właściwymi przepisami dotyczącymi prawa do odstąpienia od umowy i odpowiedzialności za zgodność z umową, art. 6 ust. 1 lit. b RODO
Handling newsletter subscription.	When subscribing to the newsletter, you are required to provide the necessary data to receive it as specified in the subscription form. Providing data is a condition for receiving the newsletter. In addition, the mailing system logs your IP address when you sign up for the newsletter, determines your approximate location, the email client you use to manage your email, and tracks your actions related to the messages sent to you. Therefore, we also have information on which messages you opened, which links you clicked on, and so on. In the mailing system, we can also define, based on various criteria related to your activity, interests, or other preferences, specific groups or segments of newsletter recipients that influence the type of messages you receive as part of the newsletter. The data you provide in connection with the newsletter subscription is used to send you the newsletter, and the legal basis for their processing is the performance of an electronic service contract, as well as our legitimate interest, which in this case is to achieve marketing goals.	art. 6 ust. 1 lit. b RODO, art. 6 ust. 1 lit. f RODO

	Regarding the processing of information that does not come from you but was collected automatically by the mailing system, we rely in this area on our legitimate interest in analyzing the behavior of newsletter subscribers to optimize mailing activities. You can unsubscribe from the newsletter at any time by clicking on the dedicated link in each message sent as part of the newsletter, or simply by contacting us. Unsubscribing from the newsletter does not lead to the deletion of your data from the mailing system. The data is archived for the purpose of potential identification, investigation, or defense of claims related to the newsletter, as well as to ensure the possibility of demonstrating that the newsletter activities were carried out in accordance with the law.
Comment / Opinion Handling.	When adding a comment / review, you must provide the necessary data for its publication in the form designated for adding comments / reviews. Providing data is a condition for the publication of comments / reviews. In addition, the comment / review system saves your IP number from which you submitted the comment / review. The comment / review system may be operated by an external provider. In such a situation, using the system is subject to the regulations and privacy policy of the external provider. Detailed information about external providers' tools can be found in the section dedicated to the tools we use. The data is processed for the purpose of publishing the comment / review, which is our legitimate interest. The comment or review you added, along with your published data, will be visible on the page according to the settings. You can modify or delete the comment / review at any time. The deleted comment / review along with your data goes to the archive for the purpose of establishing, investigating or defending claims related to the comment / review.	art. 6 ust. 1 lit. f RODO
Contact and correspondence handling.	When contacting us through available means of communication, such as email, social media messengers, chats, etc., you naturally provide your personal data contained in the correspondence. Providing data is a condition for establishing contact. In addition, the communication system records your IP address used to send the message. The communication system (e.g. chat, messenger) may be provided by an external provider. In such a situation, the use of the system is subject to the terms and privacy policy of the external provider. Detailed information on external provider tools can be found in the section dedicated to the tools we use. The data is processed for the purpose of conducting communication, which is our legitimate interest. After the communication is completed, the data is archived for the purpose of potential determination, investigation, or defense of claims related to the communication conducted.	art. 6 ust. 1 lit. f RODO

Fulfillment of tax and accounting obligations.	In connection with the execution of the agreement, we also fulfill various tax and accounting obligations, in particular by issuing an invoice, including the invoice in our accounting documentation, and storing documentation, etc. To issue an invoice, we process data such as name, company, business address, and tax identification number. Providing data required by tax law is necessary to fulfill the specified obligations.	art. 6 ust. 1 lit. c RODO w związku z właściwymi przepisami prawa podatkowego
Creating an archive.	For the purposes of our business, we may create archives, both in traditional and digital form. Personal data that we processed in connection with you may be included in the archives, and their scope may vary depending on what data we received and what scope of data is justified for archival purposes. In this case, we rely on our legitimate interest in organizing and managing personal data storage.	art. 6 ust. 1 lit. f RODO
Defense, determination, or pursuit of claims.	Using our website, as well as entering into a contract with us, may result in certain claims by either party in the future. Therefore, we are entitled to process personal data for the purpose of defending, establishing or pursuing claims. For this purpose, we may process any personal data that relates to a given claim, so the scope of the data may vary depending on the nature of the claim. In this case, we rely on our legitimate interest in protecting our interests.	art. 6 ust. 1 lit. f RODO
Creating target groups for advertising.	Your email address stored in our database may be transmitted to a specific advertising system (such as Facebook Ads, LinkedIn Ads) for the purpose of creating an advertising audience group using that email address. During the use of this function, the email address is hashed before being sent to the advertising system in order to create the advertising audience group. The email address will be used in a matching process conducted by the advertising system. The advertising system does not disclose the email address to third parties or other advertisers, and removes the email address immediately after the matching process is completed. The advertising system implements processes and procedures to ensure the confidentiality and security of the transmitted email address and the set of user identifiers creating the advertising audience group, among other things by applying technical and physical safeguards. Creating an advertising audience group using your email address is our legitimate interest, which in this case is the realization of our marketing objectives.	art. 6 ust. 1 lit. f RODO

This information is referred to as "Anonymous Information" in this Privacy Policy. Anonymous Information in itself does not, in our opinion, have the character of personal data because it does not allow us to identify you, and we do not combine it with typical personal data that we collect about you. Nevertheless, considering the rigorous case law of the Court of Justice of the European Union and divided opinions among lawyers, as a precaution, in case Anonymous Information is attributed the character of personal data, we have also included detailed explanations on the processing of this information in the Privacy Policy.

We are unable to provide you with access to Anonymous Information about you, as we are unable to assign any of this information to a specific user. From the tools that collect Anonymous Information, we only have access to a set of statistics and information that is not assigned to specific individuals.

The processing of Anonymous Information enables us to provide you with the ability to use the functionality available on the website. In addition, Anonymous Information is used for analytical and statistical purposes, as well as marketing purposes such as setting and targeting advertisements.

Anonymous Information is also processed by tool providers in accordance with their terms of use and privacy policies. They may use this information to provide and improve services, manage them, develop new services, measure the effectiveness of advertising, protect against fraud and abuse, and personalize content and ads displayed on specific services, websites, and applications. Detailed information related to this can be found in the section dedicated to the tools we use.

6: Where did we get your personal data?

In most cases, you provide them to us yourself. For example, this happens when you register a user account, place an order, submit a complaint or withdraw from a contract, contact us via email or chat, or use the functionality available on our website or in external services (e.g. social media).

In addition, some information about you may be automatically collected by the tools we use. Detailed information about external tool providers can be found in the section dedicated to the tools we use.

We have analyzed the risks associated with the individual processes of processing your data, and then implemented appropriate security and personal data protection measures. We constantly monitor the state of the technical infrastructure, train our staff, review the procedures in use, and implement necessary improvements.

8: How long will we keep personal data?

Your personal data is processed for as long as it is justified for a given purpose of data processing, and therefore processing periods may vary depending on the purpose. Please note that the termination of processing of your data for one purpose does not necessarily lead to the complete deletion or destruction of your personal data, as the same set of data may be processed for another purpose, for the period specified for it. Complete deletion or destruction of data occurs when we have completed the implementation of all purposes and in other cases indicated in the GDPR.

If necessary, your personal data may be made available to a legal advisor or attorney bound by professional secrecy. The need may arise from the necessity of seeking legal assistance that requires access to your personal data.

Your personal data may also be transferred to tax offices to the extent necessary to fulfill tax, settlement, and accounting obligations. This particularly concerns all declarations, reports, financial statements, and other accounting documents containing your personal data.

Moreover, if necessary, your personal data may be made available to entities, authorities, or institutions authorized to access data under applicable law, such as police, security, courts, and public prosecutors.

Your data is provided to courier companies to the extent necessary to deliver the ordered goods. These companies become independent data controllers of your personal data.

Regarding Anonymous Information, providers of tools or plugins that collect Anonymous Information have access to them. These tool providers are independent data controllers of the data they collect and may share it on terms determined by themselves in their own regulations and privacy policies, which we have no control over.

10: Do we transfer data to third countries or international organizations?

Yes, some of the processing operations of your personal data may involve their transfer to third countries.

We transfer your personal data to third countries in connection with the use of tools that utilize resources located in third countries, particularly in the USA. Providers of these tools guarantee an adequate level of personal data protection through appropriate compliance mechanisms provided by the GDPR, in particular by using standard contractual clauses.

Currently, your personal data is being transferred to third countries in connection with our use of the following solutions:

Type of solution	Provider of the solution	Third country
Email	Microsoft	USA
Customer Relationship Management system	HubSpot	USA

Additionally, Anonymous Information collected in connection with the use of tools listed in the annex to this privacy policy may be transferred to third countries, particularly the USA.

11: Do we use profiling?

We do not make decisions based solely on automated processing, including profiling, which would have legal or similarly significant effects on you. However, we do use tools that may take certain actions based on information collected through tracking mechanisms, but we believe that these actions do not have a significant impact on you, as they do not differentiate your situation as a customer, affect the terms of the contract you may enter into with us, etc.

By using certain tools, we may, for example, direct personalized ads to you based on your previous actions taken on a given website, or suggest products that may interest you. This is what is known as behavioral advertising. We encourage you to deepen your knowledge of behavioral advertising, particularly with regard to privacy issues. Detailed information, along with the ability to manage your behavioral advertising settings, can be found here.

12: What are your rights?

The GDPR grants you the following potential rights related to the processing of your personal data:

- the right to object to the processing of data (you have the right to object to the processing of your data based on a legitimate interest; you should specify a particular situation that justifies us stopping the processing subject to objection; we will stop processing your data for these purposes unless we demonstrate that our grounds for processing the data override your rights or that we need your data to establish, exercise, or defend legal claims);
- the right to data portability (you have the right to receive your personal data that you have provided to us based on a contract or your consent in a structured, commonly used, and machine-readable format, and you can instruct us to transmit that data directly to another controller);
- the right to withdraw your consent for processing personal data, if you have previously given it;
- the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority (if you believe that we are processing your data unlawfully, you can file a complaint with the President of the Personal Data Protection Office or another relevant supervisory authority).

The principles related to the implementation of the above-mentioned rights are described in detail in Articles 16-21 of the GDPR. We encourage you to familiarize yourself with these regulations. Please note that the rights mentioned above are not absolute and will not apply to all processing of your personal data.

We emphasize that one of the rights mentioned above always applies to you: if you believe that we have violated the regulations on the protection of personal data when processing your personal data, you have the possibility to lodge a complaint with the supervisory authority (the President of the Personal Data Protection Office).

13: Do we use cookies and what are they exactly?

Our website, like almost all other websites, uses cookies.

Cookies are small text information stored on your end device (e.g. computer, tablet, smartphone) that can be read by our teleinformatics system (own cookies) or third-party teleinformatics systems (third-party cookies). Certain information can be saved and stored in cookie files, which teleinformatics systems can then access for specific purposes.

Some of the cookies we use are deleted after the end of the internet browser session, i.e. after it is closed (session cookies). Other cookies are stored on your end device and allow for recognition of your browser during subsequent visits to the website (persistent cookies).

If you want to learn more about cookies as such, you can read, for example, this material.

14: How do we justify the use of cookies?

We use cookies based on your consent, except in situations where cookies are necessary for the proper provision of electronic services to you.

Cookies that are not necessary for the proper provision of electronic services remain blocked until you give your consent to use cookies. During your first visit to a given website, we display a message asking for your consent along with the option to manage cookies, meaning you can decide which cookies you agree to and which ones you want to block.

15: Can you disable cookies?

Browser plugins are also available that allow you to control cookies, such as Ghostery, and additional software, particularly antivirus packages, can also provide cookie control options.

Moreover, there are tools available on the Internet that allow you to control some types of cookies, particularly for bulk management of behavioral advertising settings.

We also give you the ability to control cookies directly from our website. We have implemented a special mechanism for managing cookies that allows you to block those cookies that you don't want. Remember that disabling or limiting cookie support may prevent you from using some of the features available on our website and cause difficulties in using the website, as well as many other websites that use cookies.
